Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 11.—Carnarvon, in a long letter to the Times, this morning, replies to Parnell's account of the negotiations between lisbury's Government and the Parnellites in 885. He does not deny that he met Parnell secretly in an empty house, and above all does not challenge the authenticity of the corre-spondence published by Parnell, from which all impartial observers draw but one conclusion, that Carnaryon used his influence to inwith the aid of the Parnell vote, the negoo show that he was halting between several opinions, and merely seeking information from men of all parties. According to his acount he was quite prepared to believe that ome rule or the government of Ireland as a crown colony, was a possible solution of the question. As these plans are as wide as poles sunder, Carnarvon may be said to rival Macivor the member of Parliament who was known as the "man of open mind," because he sub-scribed both to the Liberation Society for disestablishing the church and the Church De-fense Society on the grounds that both sides were entitled to a hearing.

CONVERTED TO HOME RULE. There are rumors that the Daily Telegraph intends to come over to the cause of home rule. Both Sir Edwin Arnold, editor, and orge Augustus Sala, principal contribu george Augustus Sala, principal contributor, attended Parnell's banquet at the Eighty Club. The Telegraph has the largest circulation of all the London papers, and its support would insure again of several London seats to the Gladstonians. As it is, the leaders of the Liberal party confidently reckon on a gain of from ten to fifteen seats in London at the next-general election.

MRS. BURNETT'S TRIUMPH. Mrs. Burnett who, much courted here just now in society, has achieved a veritable triumph in the law courts, and established the right of an author to prevent the making of even a single copy of an unauthorized play con-taining passages identical in form or substance with parts of the novel. It is possible that Justice Sterling's decision of yesterday will be Justice Sterling's decision of yesterday will be reversed on appeal, but this is considered in legal circles unlikely. Had Diekens proceeded in the same way as Mrs. Burnett he would have made a large fortune out of the versions of his novels, for which he had never a cent. Immediately after the judgment Mrs. Burnett's publishers applied to the Lord Chamberles of the control of t berlain to deliver up the copy of "Little Lord Fauntieroy" in his possession, in accordance with the Judge's directions and have the passages constituting the infringement, that at the same time asked him to revolu-2.50 license of the play. The Archbishop of Dublin on the Papal Rescript.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.
DUBLIN, May 11.—In a letter to yesterday's Freeman's Journal, the Most Rev. Dr. Walsh, Archbishop of Dublin, gives a contradiction to the published statements from Rome in which his own name has been mentioned. In no single instance that he has seen, do the references to himself contain even the smallest element of truth. On the subject of the rescript His Grace observes: "It is well to have three things most distinctly understood in Ire-land; first, that a most determined effort has land; first, that a most determined effort has been made, or rather that for a considerable time past a series of such efforts have been made, to bring under the unfayorable judgment of the Holy See the Irish Nationalist movement, or at least the Irish Nationalist movement, the accomplishment of the design were skilfully chosen, and consisted, in fact, in an effort to identify the league and the movement generally with methods of action which undoubtedly had, in many instances, been used in furtherance of the work of the league in particular localities, and, thirdly, that the persistent efforts thus made for months, and as regards one point for years, have ended in

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

Railroads in Brazil.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11 .- The dispatel rom Ottawa, Canada, to a New York pape states that a syndicate headed by J. J. C. Abott, member of the Dominion Ministry, com manding British capital to the extent of $100, 000,000, has been formed to undertake railway works in Brazil. It is learned here that suc a syndicate has been formed, composed of leading New York bankers and merci ants and representative New England capitalists with some of the principal Canadian Pacific capitalists. It is tated that concessions, subsidies and contracts have been obtained from the Government of Brazil of enormous value, and that the first undertaking of the syndicate will be the establishment of a transportation line from the port of Para, Brazil, 100 miles from the southern mouth of the Amazon, by the Tocantins, Araguaya and Vermelo Rivers, to the city of Goyoz. The Tocantins is navigable by large steamers for about two hundred and fifty miles from Para, and then is obstructed by a series of rapids for about seventy miles. A line of railroad is to be built around these rapids and more than 250,000 miles of navigation established on the Upper Tocantins, and its great tributaries, and the southern ports of Goyoz province brought into direct connection with Fara.

It is said that land grants have been made by the Government and money voted for colonization on a grand scale. Arrangements are now being made in Europe for the introduction of colonists. The region to be developed and colonized is the central interior of Brazil. An historical as well as commercial significance attaches to this enterprise, inasmuch as in 1835 there was a great agitation in the United States have, over the opening of the Amazon to the trade of the world. The region was explored in 1846 by a scientific commission sent out by the French Government under Count Castleman, who pictures the region as an earthly paradise and declares that southwas explored in 1846 by a scientific commission sent out by the French Government under Count Castleman, who pictures the region as an earthly paradise and declares that southern Goyoz is not only the richest country in the world in precious metals, gold and diamonds, but that its elimate and agricultural resources are unequalled. The party of four englacers which sailed on the steamer Advance of the United States-Brazil line from Newport News, Va., took from New York a large steam launch of the Herreshoff model and a complete outfit for the expedition. The party after locating the line of railroad around the rapids of the Tocantins, will continue their journey to the city of Goyoz.

The company is organized in the United States and is known as the Para Transportation & Trading Co. Its office is at No. 16 and 18 Broad street, New York, and among its officers and directors are John J. C. Abbott of Montreal, Director of the Bank of Montreal and member of the Dominion Privy Council; Chas. C. Colby, Deputy Speaker of the Dominion House of Commons; Col. Geo. W. Hooker of Vermont; Robert J. Kimbali of R. J. Kimbali & Co., bankers, New York; Bayard Dominick of Dominick & Dickerman, New York; Theo. E. Leeds of Deloway, Davenport & Leeds, New York, and Guy C. A few days ago two prominent members of the United States Senate, the most dignified body of legislators in the world, wasted hours and days of time in a bitterfwrangle over the dead past. They acted the part of resurrectionists and gnawed in wolfish fashion over the bones of dead men. We have men in this order who wore the gray uniform on the battle field over twenty years ago. We count among our members those who wore the blue. I ask of these men, the private soldiers of the late war, who are members of the order. JUDGE LUBKE DECIDES A CASE OF INTER EST TO BUSINESS MEN.

The Law Applied in a Case of Preferred Creditor-An Attachment Sustained in Favor of a Brother—Exemplary Damages Awarded a Tenant Against a Landlord— A Special Jury Ordered for the Lancaster-Glover Case-Matters in Litigation

Judge Lubke to-day rendered a decision of sterest to business men in the suit of Herman Gilbert against Henry Gilbert. A motion entered by A. Frankenthal & Co. to postpone the lien of attachment is overruled at the costs vacated. The plaintiff and the defendant in this action are brothers. It was commenced January 23 of the present year on two notes defendant was about to fraudulently conceal and remove his property so as to hinder and delay his creditors. The defendant was engaged in a retail dry goods business at 208 North Seventh street and 2840 Manchester Sheriff realized $970.98, now in his hands.

later attachment which was also levied upon and effect of the attachment issued in favor of Herman Gilbert and to set it aside and postmight obtain the proceeds of might obtain the proceeds of the sale to satisfy their claim of $225.23. They alleged that there was collusion between the Gilberts for the purpose of hindering, delaying and defrauding the bona fide creditors of Henry Gilbert, and that the process of the courts was abused in obtaining the attachment. By a stipulation in writing, the defendant confessed the attachment and consented to the entry of a judgment sgainst him for the debt sued for by Herman Gilbert, his brother. Messrs. Frankenthal contended that the entry of the judgment for the debt claimed by Herman Gilbert before the return day of the attachment suit operated in law to dissolve the attachment. Varlous authorities from other States were quoted, but owing to the poculiar provisions of the attachment to dissolve the decisions could not be applied in his case. islands of the Pacific."

The Jewish Voice has the following to say about cremation: "We do not think that cremation is contrary to the behests and principles of the Mosaic faith. Burial was always in use among our people generally, but the Bible reports isolated cases of cremation. Nevertheless, there is something in the latter med of disposing of the human body which, we might say, is revolting to the Jewish mind.

Burial is good enough for us, and will always remain so."

THE withdrawal of Mr. KLEIN from the ontest over the judicial election in this city is another illustration of the brainless, nerveless, lifeless and soulless condition of the Republican party. The Republican party nominated Mr. KLEIN and presumably elected him, but when the election was contested sneaked out of the fight and deserted its candidate. The two corner-stones of political dishonesty in St. Louis are Democratic boodleism and Republican brainlessness.

THE New Orleans Times-Democrat cites ome curious facts from the census tables connection with the talk about a suppressed vote in the South. It shows that here are more voters in proportion to population in the North than in the South ecause the birth rate in the latter is the largest, and she has more people under 21 years old than over that age, while the contrary is true in the North. An Active Market, Stocks Sold and Price

The committee to draw up a constitut and by-laws for the projected mining exchange will meet at 4:30 this afternoon.

Encouraging reports received from the Black Oak, stating that both the old and new territory was in a most promising condition, gave rise to an active demand for the stock. The market opened with a transfer of 1,500 shares at 75, followed by a sale of 1,600 shares at 734. A reaction immediately set in, 500 shares bringing 75, and more than 5,000 shares selling at 80. The market closed with sales of 500 shares at 77½ and 784.

—Casket Factory Burned.

Pittsburg, Pa.. May 11.—An early morning fire on the south side totally destroyed Oyster & Short's planing mill, lumber yard, two frame dwellings, Norcross & Co.'s paintworks. The fire is supposed to have originated in the furnace room of the mill, but nothing definite is known. The total loss is estimated at $3.00, distributed as follows: Planing mill and lumber yard, $67,000; paint-works, $10,000; dwellings, $6,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

His breath smelt strongly of liquor, but he was quite sober.

The police were called in at this stage of the proceedings and the most noted burglar of recent years was turned over to the authorities by private hands. When he was about to leave he made a most profound bow to the ladies, and with Claude Duvai gallanty said:

"Excuse me, ladies, for disturbing your rest, but I had to get the house located."

HIS FATAL MISTAKE.

He had opened the kitchen door, and when Dr. Galloway was coming down he could have slid out the back way, but foolishly he went on up to the third floor. He explained this by saying he thought there was another way down. That little mistake is what will make the West-End tolks snooze sweetly to-night.

Before going upstairs the burglar had gone through the wardrobe below, the silverware chest of which he took only the one piece, and had partaken of a sumptuous supper in the dining-room. He demolished half of a chicken and ransacked the pantry till he found he maple syrup by the aid of which he greatly depicted the supply of bread.

ADMITTING HIS GUILT.

He was taken to the Third District station last night where he said his name was William Weber. This morning he was brought to the Four Courts, where the detectives took charge of him. He answered the description given of the West End burglar, and the police ascertained that he was the man who sold alot of articles which had been stolen in these raids on residences. The police also have a lot of clothes and articles which has sole, and which have not yet been identified. They say they can secure convictions against him in at least a half dozen cases. After he said been confronted with the proofs of his guilt, weber finally admitted being the man who had operated so successfully in the fishionable residence quarter.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Brilliant Rendition of Verdi's "Requiem at Music Hall-Amusement Notes. It is only repeating the general verdict of the when it is said the rendition of the "Requiem" concert ever given in St. Louis.

ONE OF HIS ANTICS.

The last place to enjoy a good laugh over his nocturnal call was Mr. David Rorick's on Page with a magnificent audience, in point with a magnificent audience, in point of numbers and intelligence. One of the strongest proofs of the music-loving quality of the audience and of the merits of the performance was the fact that not more than two or three persons left the hall until the last note of verdi's great work had been sung. It would be hypercritical to pick out faults where there was so much of excellence in chorus, soloists and orchestra. The work of the combined chorus forces of the Choral and Liederkranz was superb. The chorus was filled out and strong in every part, evenly balanced and thoroughly trained. The attacks were spirited and accurate, while the shading and expression of the scene were treated with a delicacy and skill which charmed the listeners. When the 300 voices came out full on a grand swelling climax the volume was magnificent. The orchestra also was vastly better than any which the Choral has had, so that altogether Director Joseph Otten should be credited with a positive triumph.

As for the soloists, the work all around was admirable. The largest triumph of the evening undoubtedly belongs to Miss Emma Juch, the well-known soprano, the charming quality of whose voice filled the hall with sweet notes. She sang splendidly with feeling and finely artistic results. Her triumph, however, was largely shared by Mrs. Pauline Schuler-Bollman, whose rich contraito accomplished admirable results with her part. As a matter of fact the difference between her singing and that of Miss Juch was not one of quality of voice, but of training and technique. Mr. Knorr lacked somewhat in force and volume, but his sweet tenor was entirely acceptable, and Mr. Wiseman, the barytone, did thoroughly admirable work. He had power enough to fill the hall and he sang with thorough correctness and artistic strength. The Choral Society has demonstrated its value as a producer of high-class music. It is an ornament, pride and at the same time an element of musical progress to St. Louis.

walk up the yard to the front door, and enter the door, making considerable noise with the lock. It subsequently turned out that he had broken off the weak lock. As one of the occupants of the house was in the habit of coming in about that hour, Dr. Galloway thought nothing more about it and went on reading. The tramping around the house continuing, he, despite the pleadings of his wife, who declared she never expected to see him alive again, took his night-lamp and started out to awaken the house. Going down the front stairs he heard the burglar going up the back stairway. He went to Sharpe's room and called him. That gentleman, having had no thrilling experience since Sweeney's gang a few months ago attacked his car near Kansas City, arose with alacrity to enjoy the fun.

Mrs. Sharpe gave Dr. Galloway an immense poker, young Walter Sharpe grasped a base ball bat, and thus accoutred the army moved up to the third floor. The burglar having gone up to the third floor, found the back room unoccupied, and was exploring the contents of the apartment. His muffled footfails could be heard, so could the breathing of the advancing line. Reaching the door Sharpe knocked. There was no response. Then the door was tried and was found locked. The gentleman across the hall was aroused and in thunder tones, like a salvationist calling for recruits, told to "join the army." The newly aroused sleeper, Thomas McCracken, furnished his key which unlocked the door. Dr. Galloway reached his light in and as its rays dispelled the gloom Sharpe peeking through the crack saw the burglar crouching behind the door. He at once trained his revolver on him and shouted:

"Come out of there."

"What do you want of me?" was the surly and the same of Miss Adelaide Randall was suffering from hoarseness on Sunday night and she and her company were fatigued by travel and hard work so that the performance of the "Princess of Trebizonde" then was not up to the capabilities of the company. There was great improvement in the work of the company in "Mme. Boniface," Miss kandall making a favorable impression in both singing and acting and the company giving a performance which was warmly received by the audience. "Mme. Boniface" will be the bill for the rest of the week.

will be the bill for the rest of the week.

The brilliant performances of "A Trip to Africa" on Sunday and Wednesday nights should assure a big audience for the request performance on Saturday afternoon. The receipts have already reached a very large sum, and the managers have expectations of clearing some $2,000 for the Orphan Asylum. The profits should be made to reach that sum.

"Now, look here," said Sharpe, "you come out of there or I'll bore a hole through you."

"All right; fire away," came the chee, ful answer.

"I don't have to shoot," said Sharp, advancing his John L. Sullivan frame into the room and grabbing the intruder by the coliar. At the same time the poker and bat were raised over his head and he witted. He was searched on the spot, but no fire-arms were found on him. However, a flue diamond pin and a gold watch were fished out of his pocks, articles he had probably secured before reaching No. 1631, as he had not yet appropriated anything belonging to the house, except a case-knife and a pair of shoes which he had stuffed into his pockets. He was marched down to the parlor, where the lights were all turned on and the prisoner the lights were all turned on and the prisoner held a sort of a levee. He looked very funny with one shoe sticking out of each pocket. The parlor was filled with the members of the house, but the prisoner was acaim as senator lngails in the late debate. He met all jokes about being the West End burglar with laughing nonchalance and didn't appear at all disturbed.

As he stood in the center of the half-arms.

As he stood in the center of the half-afraid, half-amused group he appeared to be about 30 years of age, under the medium height, stout, and with a round, happy-looking German face that disclosed a good stock of humor. His breath smelt strongly of liquor, but he was quite sober.

The Committee Protests Against All Night Picnics and the sale of Liquors.

The Executive Committee of the Colored Reform Movement has resolved to protest against the sale of intoxicating liquors at colored school picnics. Mr. Stephen Wilson, who is prominent in the reform movement, said in explanation of the resolution that last year one of the school picnics was held in a beer garden and resulted in a shooting scrape. Another picnic was given in the southern part of the city. This was continued through the night. He said that the occurences at these affairs were demoralizing, and with the return of the picnic season the Reform Committee decided to undertake a remedy for the abuses.

this market. MME, DISS DE BAR.

The Medium's Family to Institute Proceedings to Inquire Into Her Sanity. By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK. May 11. - This note was sent to

Mme. Diss de Bar yesterday in the Tombs: Jerome Buck has been retained as counsel by your mother, Mrs. Salomon, and your sister, Miss Augusta Salomon of Louisville, Ky., through the efforts of your brother, George T. Salomon, to inquire into your sainty. What answer do you make?

To this polite note Mme. Diss de Bar To this polite note Mme. Diss de Bar made no repiy. The story as told in the note is true but the medium caused it to be known in a general manner that she did not sanction the proceedings, which course on her part was logical. There have been rumors of late that the Salomons had engaged counsel to have Ann's insanity inquired into and yesterday Mr. Buck admitted that he had been retained. He said that he had received a tear ful, prayerful letter, a sweet letter in fact, from Mme. Diss de Bar's mother, requesting in to take the case in hand. The Salomons are good people. This is the pathetic letter the mother writes to Mr. Buck:

A daukter of mine. Ann Odela Salomon, is now the mother writes to Mr. Buck:

A daughter of mine, Ann Odela Salomon, is now before the courts of your city. For years Anna has pursued a career that indicates a perverted and depraved mind. She has brought sorrow to my heart and shame upon our name, but I believe she is laboring under a monomania. I therefore ask you, dear sir, at the proper time to represent my family in all proceedings necessary to place her in an insane asylum, or some institution (not penal) where she may be properly restrained from committing further depredations upon the public. ELIZA SALOMON. may be properly restrained from committing further depredations upon the public. ELIZA SALOMON.

Mr. Buck intimated that he had not taken any steps yet in the case, because that would be interfering with the counsel of the Princess. But he might confer with her counsel to-day. Mr. Hummel said that if Mmc. Diss de Bar was insane there was method in her madness, as was proved in her ability to wheedle Mr. Marsh. The proceedings to institute inquiry into her sanity might interrupt the trial, as was the case with McCabe, the alderman or Shipman, the murderer. The keepers at the Tombs remarked that the only question that troubled them was where they could get a large enough straight jacket for the Princess if she really was mad. They had heard, as Mr. Hummel had said, that she had been once before confined in the insane asylum on Blackwell's Island.

John D. Townsend, counsel for the Diss de-Bars, made a motion before Justice Gildersleeve yesterday that the District Attorney show cause why his clients should not be immediately tried. The motion will be argued to-day.

Something Bang Up. Burlington strikers to consider statements to the effect that the crews of various roads transferring 'Q' cars were attacked by nonan Atlantic crew was surrounded and threatened with revolvers, the crew being compelled to leave the train with the engine to escape. It was claimed that a similar attack was made several days before in the Wabash yards, and also yesterday in the Minnesota and Northwestern yards. A committee was appointed to wait on the general managers of the various roads and request protection. If this protection is not granted, the men say they will cease to handle Burlington business. The committee will try to have the revolvers of the "Q" men confiscated. Complaint was also made of the alloged high handed actions of Charles Sollers, the Burlington switchman, who killed a Wabash engineer and seriously wounded another man several weeks ago. A committee was appointed to hasten his prosecution.

THE NOLAN SHOOTING. Dyer Scanlan Believed to Be the Murderer of Officer O'Brien.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11 .- The attorneys for Timothy O'Grady, who is now serving a seventeen-year sentence in Joliet for the murder of Police Officer O'Brien on the night of April 3, 1887, are confident that Dyer Scanlan who was arrested vesterday with Mollie Mott for the shooting of Officer Nolan, is the rea murderer and that their client is innocent as murderer and that their client is innocent as he always claimed to be. In police circles it has been reported that Scanlan had confided to friends that he was O'Brien's slayer, but he refused to say anything on the subject last night. He is resting easily at the Armory station under surgical care. Officer Nolan may recover, but will lose his right arm. Last evening the police learned from Mollie Mott that she held Nolan's arm from behind while Scanlan emptied his revolver into the unfortunate officer's body.

At 78'clock last night the Vornbrock Furniture Factory at Main and Tyler atreets was burned. The fire originated on the second floor. The distance of the fire from the engine houses caused a delay which enabled the fire to extend rapidly, and over an hour was con-sumed by the firemen in getting the flames under control. The damage to stock and building was about $10,000; insured.

The Folding Chair Factory. At 2 o'clock this morning the Ames Porkhouse at 1801 North Main street was burned The building was owned by Gaines Paddock and occupied by the American Folding Chair and occupied by the American Folding Chair Co., of which Mr. Paddock is President. It was four stories high, 200 feet front and 200 feet deep. There was a large quantity of varnish on the second floor where the fire started, and the spread was so rapid that the Fire Department could not save the building. Two alarms were sounded, and the men and machines managed to prevent the fire spreading. The building and stock lost, fully insured, amount to about $25,000. Fifty hands were employed there making folding chairs.

QUANTRELL'S BAND.

The Rev. Dr. Elbert R. Dette of California criticized the members who read newspapers during prayer and Bishop Bowman, who presided, did the same. After the reading of the minutes most of the members were in their seats. It is reported that there will be music when the discussion on the standing of Bishop Taylor comes up. Mrs. Arbury Lowry has demanded that the African Missionary bishops shall be accorded the same rights as the other bishops. It was thought that the bishop would make a demand to be allowed to preside, but he did not, and Bishop Bowman took the chair. There is to be a sensation when Bishop Taylor's report of his work in Africa is made. He says his labors have been successful, while his opponents claim that it has the fine a failure. One of the African missionaries, named Davenport, arrived yesterday and he will testify that the work has been far from successful. Bishop Taylor will present his report to-morrow and then an effort will be made to refer it to the Committee on Episcopacy, but the majority will vote to send it to the Committee on Missions.

A CARELESS BANK MESSENGER.

He Forgets a $5,000 Package of Bank Notes on a Ferry-Beat.

New York, May 11.—A messenger from the First National Bank of Jersey City was sent yesterday to the American Bank Note Co., New York, to get a package of $5,000 in bank notes to replace worn-out bills. The messenger, returning on a ferry-boat, left the messenger, on the roat health him and went to messenger, returning on a ferry-boat, left the package on the seat beside him and went to the bank building. As he entered the door he thought of the package and rushed back to the ferry only to find that the boat had started on its return trip. A deckhand recalled seeing the package and said that a man with a red mustache carried it away when the boat reached the New York side. President Young refused to give the name of the messenger, remarking. "It is immatorial now, the package has been returned and everything is all right." The bank notes were unsigned.

against him by members of the City Council occurred yesterday before Judge Jameson of Chicago. There were seven counts in the indictment. The first two were for refusing to entertain certain motions, the third for using profane and abasive language and obstructing business; the fourth for doctoring the records, refusing to entertain a resolution, and permitting no appeal from the decision of the chair; the fifth for refusing to entertain a motion, and the sixth and seventh for making illegal contracts for lumber. After arguments, Judge Jameson quashed each of the indictments, saying they were too trivial to be brought into court.

THE BRILLIANT BROWNS.

CHAMPIONS IN FACT AS WELL AS IN NAME.

What the Cincinnati Series Shows - Un equaled Games Put Up by the Associa-tion Leaders—Two Ten-Inning Contests in Six-Tommy Danforth's Draw-London Opinion of Base Ball-Sporting

The Browns' series with the Cincinnatis demonstrates the champions' strength. Everybody was talking a few weeks ago about the weakness of the Browns and how the Cincinnatis would "play" with them, but the result of the series shows that the Browns are starting out just as strongly as they did last year. The games they have played with the Reds are the finest that any nines in the country have put up this season. Where the Bostons, Detroits and Chicagos have been playing "chump" bail with scores oftener over than under ten runs, the Association leaders have fought out their games with commendable brilliancy. No season ever started as magnificently as the Cincinnatis

From the sixteen hits made off Clarkson yesterday, it is fair to presume that the Bostons can't get Radbourne a bit too soon.

Mayor Harrington Cleared.

GENEVA, Ill., May 11.—Mayor James Harrington's trial on the indictment brought against him by members of the City Council

Capt. Comiskey has done wonders with the new material on the Browns in developing them so fully. Comiskey is a winner and deserves a great deal of credit.

Carry the news to Dave, Bobby and Bush. The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: "There is more vim in the Brown's playing than was noticeable at any time last season." Chamberiain of Louisville often pitches al-ternately with his left and right hand, a most unusual thing. After awhile pitchers will have to see out of the back of their heads to prop-erly watch second base.

Sam Barkley, who was a great favorite in St. Louis when with the St. Louis Browns, will be warmly welcomed here with the Kansas Citys. Sam did excellent work for the Browns during his service with them.

Browns during his service with them.

If Whitney signs with Detroit it is proposed to put White in left field and thus preserve the batting strength of the team. Twitchell is to be made a regular pitcher shortly. If Whitney is not secured Ganzel or Conway will fill left when Twitchell is in the box.

O'Neill likes to fool the boys. In the practice games in spring before business he has a way of dandling the stick that gives out the idea that he has seen his best days. But when the official umpire calls "play," then Tip begins to "line 'em out" in response to Latham's cheery advice. He never started a season with more vicious slugging than he has this year.

Suen rowdylsm as the Browns exhibited in tham's cheery advice. He never started a season with more vicious slugging than he has this year.

Suce rowdylsm as the Browns exhibited in yesterday's game should not be tolerated. Lyons, to all appearances, deliberately hit Carpenter in the stomach, while the Browns' infield accepted every chance to block baserunners. A few heavy fines might eradicate the eyil. The action of Comiskey's men was not sanctioned by the crowd, as they were repeatedly hissed.—[Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. Barring the nonsense of the supposition that a little fellow like Lyons would try to buck a 180-pound fellow like Carpenter, it might be asked what has become of the old cry of last year that if the Browns would get rid of Welch they would all be perfect gentiemen. It may be taken for granted that if the Browns were not at the front they would all be gentlemen. There are some base ball cranks who can see no gentlemaniliness in the Browns simply because they have been selfish enough to win the championship three years straight.

The London Standard, speaking of the proposal to send representative base ball nines to England, says: "We are told that base ball will be played in this country by two nines who were victorious in New York last season. Much has been heard of the skilfulness of the crack American base ball players, and if any of the best among them come over here large crowds will certainly be attracted to witness their performances. It is said that the English cricketers who last visited the United States, accustomed though they were to the modern development of 'break' and 'twist,' were astonished at the wonderful mastery over the ball displayers, and the curiosity they showed in regard to pitching and curving will be equaled on this side of the water. Americans, like Englishmen, are (as a continental cynic remarked) never happy unless they have a ball to play with, and persistent practice at base ball players, are paid at a rate which might make successful jockeys and even professional puglishs envious, and the fact wi Paying Ball Combinations.

An unusual kick occurred in the base ball pool-rooms yesterday. Owing to the rain at yarious places, four of the six games posted on the boards were postponed or called before the necessary five innings were played. In consequence each line on the six-cub combination board having two winning clubs on it was marked up as a winner, and the money, after being divided into as many parts as there were winning lines, was paid pro-rata to the holders of tickets of the various winning numbers.
